

POSSE SEEKS CONVICTS EAST OF SALEM

Letters, Gifts For Donna Pour In

From far and near today came dimes and dollars for seven-year-old Donna Marie Saunders, who is still unconscious in Salem City hospital because a truck struck her as she attempted to board a school bus near her R. D. Lisbon home last Feb. 7.

A stack of 115 letters arrived at The Salem News office early this morning, all addressed to Donna or the Donna Saunders Hospital fund. When opened they contained a collective total of $190.50.

Each note accompanying the letters of contribution voiced some word of cheer and comfort for the little girl and her parents.

Many of the heart-warming messages were scrawled in the hand-writing of youngsters even younger than Donna. Most of these boys and girls gave dimes.

Mothers, moved by the plight of the accident victim, offered one dollar. One man gave $20.

From the city of Gallon, O., came a dime each from 17 municipal employes.

Two local churches gave donations today, the First Baptist church $50 and Phillips Church of Christ, $31.80.

Stories about Donna Marie, picked up from original Salem News articles about the school girl, were printed in papers throughout Ohio and western Pennsylvania yesterday.

Organizations Help

The appeal for funds to help the little miss were made by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Salem Amvets. The Amvets will meet at their post rooms between 6 and 6:30, tonight to form a "bucket brigade" to canvass the town for "Dimes for Donna." The Amvets also placed 66 coin jars in downtown business houses today.

City hospital would like to help the Saunders family but ethics prevent it from making an appeal to help any patient. The expensive item of having private nurses on duty to watch Donna was requested by the Saunders family.

City hospital hasn't even billed the family for hospital care, the indebtedness of which is now $4,000.

Excerpts from the messages received in today's donations from the public include the following:

"God bless you, Donna." Signed, "A Mother."

"Best of Luck from Linda."

"My prayers go with you for your complete recovery."

"The best to Donna."

"Enclosed is $1 for the little girl; not much but hope it helps a little. We who are well can be so grateful that we're able to come to work. God is her life."

"A grateful reader."

"I just read the heart-breaking story of little Donna. Being a mother I know just how her family feels. I'm praying and hoping she recovers and I know the Lord is on our side. It does my heart good to help."—A Cleveland woman.

"May God bless Donna"—a 5-year-old boy, written on a card he colored with crayons.

"My contribution is just a drop in the bucket and I will send it each week. I hope others will read of Donna's plight."—from a Massillon mother.

"Enclosed is $1. God knows it is for a good cause."

"Please accept this small amount. I hope Donna gets better. God bless her and her family."

SEES WAGE CUTS FOR U. S. POTTERS

Joseph M. Wells Fears Industry Must Cut To Meet Competition

EAST LIVERPOOL, June 7—A reduction in wages may be the American pottery industry's last ditch answer to the postwar flood of cheap foreign ware, Joseph M. Wells of the Homer Laughlin China Co. said today.

Wells made the comment on a government report that painted an unusually gloomy picture of the domestic dinnerware industry's outlook.

The United States office of domestic commerce issued a report Monday, warning the dinnerware industry it is "facing heavy foreign competition."

It pointed out that imports of household ware in 1948 were more than twice the domestic production—the first time they had exceeded the domestic output since 1942.

The only answer, the federal agency said, is for the American industry to find ways of cutting production costs.

Wells, who heads the manufacturers' wage negotiating committee, agreed with the federal agency. He said:

"The industry as a whole has made great strides in the last 20 years in mechanization and reduction of the cost of operators per man-hour. But if the present differential in the cost between foreign and American ware continues, there is only one way to meet competition. That is, with a reduction in wage rates."

Wells pointed out labor costs represent 65 per cent of the selling price of American-made ware.

Permission to use the board's small lot, west of Reilly stadium, formerly the Carpenter property, was granted the Dads of Foreign Service Veterans for use in connection with a carnival the organization is sponsoring next week.

A request from the local Girl Scout council to use school facilities for conducting Brownie meetings after school at both Prospect and Buckeye schools was referred to the superintendent. It was felt that the younger girls should have places close to their homes to meet. There are no churches in either area.

The board granted the Salem city library's request to continue use of Prospect and Buckeye schools as branch library centers during the summer months. Books are taken to the schools by librarians, from whom they are borrowed by persons living in the school district.

E. S. Dawson, who acted as president last night in the absence of Mr. Lott, gave a progress report on the negotiations to open 12th st. from Buckeye east to N. Ellsworth ave.

Columbus Medics Told How Citizens Feel About Them

COLUMBUS, June 7—(AP)—The local medical profession last night was told just what ails it.

A panel of four public representatives, reporting on a survey requested by the Columbus Academy of Medicine, offered this criticism:

1. The medical profession is a "closed shop."
2. Physicians fees are too high.
3. Doctors are often unavailable when needed.
4. They give their patients the "runaround" by not telling them what ails them.

Last GAR Member Dies In Alliance

ALLIANCE, June 7—The last member of the Ohio department, Grand Army of the Republic, died early today. He was John H. Grate, 103, soldier, buggy maker and farmer.

Death came as he lay in a coma at his home in Atwater, six miles north of here.

His final illness came shortly before Memorial day, and on that day his visitors decided to call off a ceremony scheduled for June 18, when the records of the Ohio department were to have been closed, at his request.

He had served as commander-in-chief of the GAR in 1946-47 and in the preceding year was elected commander of the Ohio department. Since 1937 he had commanded the John C. Fremont post of Alliance. Originally he was a member of the post at Randolph, another Portage county village, but joined the Alliance post when he retired and moved to Atwater from a farm in 1918.

His death leaves only two Civil war veterans living in the state, Daniel Clingman, 102, who was not a member of the GAR, lives near Wauseon. George W. Carroll, 110, a Kentuckian, became a resident of Cincinnati in 1941.

Grate was 18 when he enlisted, without the knowledge of his parents, on Oct. 4, 1863, at Newton Falls. He became a member of Company F, of the 6th Ohio Volunteer cavalry. After training near Cleveland that winter, he went to Virginia and engaged in a number of battles around Washington, later serving in engagements around Petersburg and Richmond. He was mustered out on June 28, 1865.

Born in Edinburg in Portage county, he learned the buggy-making trade at Palmyra. When the trade waned, he built an evaporator plant on his farm and for years marketed dried corn throughout the county. He retired shortly after the plant burned down, but remained active until he was past 82.

On May 2, 1972, he was married to Laura Gilbert, Deerfield. They had observed their 67th wedding anniversary before her death.

Grate is survived by a son, Charles, of Elvira, and a foster son, Clarence Kne, of near Deerfield.

Tentative arrangements are for the body to lie in state at the Wood funeral home in Atwater through Wednesday night, when it will be moved to the Gossard & Turkle funeral home in Alliance. Present plans are to hold the funeral services in Alliance Friday.

DEMANDS WORD ON WHY AGENT LEFT COUNTRY

Solon Demands Truman Answer Charge That Red Agent Was Released

WASHINGTON, June 7—(AP)—Rep. Velde (R-Ill.) said today President Truman "owes it to the American people" to explain why Russian Agent Andrei Schevchenko was allowed to skip the country without prosecution.

Velde is a member of the house-un-American activities committee.

The committee heard testimony yesterday that:

In 1944 and 1945, Schevchenko tried to get wartime secrets of jet propulsion and plane design by bribing employees of the Bell Aircraft company at Buffalo, N. Y.

The employees strung him along with doctored information under the eyes of the FBI, with pay-offs in cash.

The Russian left the country early in 1946. No attempt was made to arrest him.

The witnesses were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Franey of Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Loren G. Haas of Buffalo.

It was Velde who popped a question that brought from Jet Engineer Haas a statement he helped the FBI build an "air-tight case" against Schevchenko but his efforts were "passed off" with word "Mr. Byrnes at the State department says we can't touch him."

Can't Recall Names

He said he got that information from FBI agents whose names he cannot now recall.

At the time of which Haas spoke, in 1945, James F. Byrnes was Secretary of State. He now is in a Washington law firm. To a reporter who asked him about Haas' testimony, Byrnes said:

"Never did I tell any official of the government not to arrest anyone. That is not a matter for the Secretary of State, but one for the department of justice and the Velde told reporters: 'It is President Truman who determined the policy. It is President Truman who should make an explanation. The American people demand it.'"

"There may be some perfectly good reason why the justice and State departments refused to follow through with this case. But good or bad, the people have a right to an explanation."

The committee arranged a closed door session today to question Frank Oppenheimer, brother of the J. Robert Oppenheimer who was the wartime head of the atomic bomb plant at Los Alamos, N. Mex.

It is looking for additional information for its investigation of what went on at the radiation laboratory at the University of California at Berkeley.

PHC Leader Dies After Car Mishap

Forrest E. Wiswell, 55, of Detroit, state deputy of the Protected Home Circle, died here today of chest injuries sustained in an automobile accident on Memorial day.

He died at 6 a. m. in the Central Clinic, where he was taken following the accident which occurred on Route 30, between Hanoverton and Lisbon.

The body was returned to the Lassaline funeral home, Detroit. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at Cardington and burial will be made in the cemetery there.

His wife, Jessie, died a year ago.

A daughter, Emma May, who was with her father in the accident, is recovering from her injuries.

Wiswell was being transferred to Pittsburgh, and he and his daughter were on their way to that city at the time of the accident to look for a house.

Search Is Begun After Two Men Get Food At Home

Wearry, dusty state, county and local police pressed a search throughout the countryside just east of Salem today for two men, believed to be dangerous escaped convicts from the Moundsville, W. Va., penitentiary.

Police were alerted and began the search in the Millville area on the Egypt road last night about 8 p. m. after Mrs. Frank Fish, who lives on the Egypt road a half mile south of Route 14, told patrolmen of an intruder who demanded clothing and food.

Mrs. Fish, at home with her 11 children at about 7 p. m. Monday, was forced to give a dark-haired, dark-eyed man of about 25 a pair of pants, work gloves, two loaves of bread, a jar of jam and a can of meat.

The man, who kept his hand in his rear pocket as if gripping a weapon as he talked with Mrs. Fish, left with a companion and entered a wooded area at the rear of the Fish home.

Sgt. James A. Bower and Homer Hall of the Massillon district state patrol barracks are heading the search.

Authorities began a systematic combing of the Egypt road area at 5 a. m., after patrolling the area as carefully as was possible last night.

Five-Mile Area Under Search

Bower said that by 11 a. m. today an area within a radius of five miles of the Weingart road, which runs east and west off the Egypt road south of Route 14, had been thoroughly searched.

He said the posse covered "every nook and cranny" in that area and found absolutely no trace of anyone. The section is exceptionally hilly and wooded and contains a number of abandoned coal mine shafts, all of which were checked by the posse.

The three men still at large today are Eddie Starcher, 23, Denver Vannest, 25, and Gerald Nolan, 19. Fourteen men, all "lifers," originally escaped from Moundsville last week, but the rest have been captured.

All Roads Being Patrolled

Bower said he planned to fan out toward Columbiana if efforts failed to produce any trace of the men in the areas now under surveillance. All roads are being covered.

A thorough search of Bentley's woods, just northeast of Salem was underway at 1 p. m. The manhunt will continue through the night if the convicts are not flushed out before nightfall, authorities said.

The actual searching posse included 20 state highway patrolmen, 10 patrol cars, the state highway patrol airplane, 16 auxiliary state patrol units (headed by George Gonzales of Lisbon), three sheriff patrol cars and several members of the Salem police department.

The total search today extended from Harrisburg, Pa., to the Salem area. Reports were flowing to authorities throughout the tri-state area of alleged "glimpses" of the escapees.

One report this morning said a pair of the convicts had held up a grocery store in Moundsville, a few blocks from the prison. One robber told the grocer "I'm one of the convicts." He escaped in a car driven by an accomplice and a search is tightening in that sector.

The news of the manhunt spread over Salem like wildfire this morning and inquiries, rumors and frantic calls flooded police and The News offices.

One unfounded rumor produced a flurry of calls. It claimed that the pair had been captured at 10:30 just outside Salem on the Painter road.

Housewives gathered their children into homes and refused to allow them to play outdoors today.

Mrs. Fish Relates How Men Got Food And Clothing

Mrs. Fish's story of the convicts' appearance at her home, as told to a Salem News reporter today, is as follows:

"I was in the house with the children at about 7 p. m. when I noticed a dark-haired, dark-eyed man about five feet nine inches coming toward the front lawn. He was wearing white and blue striped coveralls and had a work handkerchief tied across the lower part of his face. He needed a shave. I would judge he was about 25 years old," she said.

"The man had his hand menacingly in his rear pocket as he came across the lawn. As I went to the door he picked up a blanket which was on the lawn saying, 'I'm taking this.' The baby had been playing on the blanket just before the man appeared," Mrs. Fish said.

Saw Second Man

She continued, "I saw another man, wearing a light shirt, dark pants and a dirty cap, standing at the rear side of the house. I couldn't see his face very well."

"The first man then told Mrs. Fish to open the door to the house, refusing to touch anything."

He made her take him through the house and demanded a pair of pants. She gave him an old pair of dark pants, she said.

"All the time, he kept his hand in his rear pocket," she recalls, "and after I gave him the pants he picked up a pair of white work gloves from the kitchen table and asked for food."

She gave him two loaves of bread, a jar of jam and the last can of meat she had in the house.

"The man then asked me if we had a telephone," Mrs. Fish relates, "and when I told him we didn't he started to leave. He threatened me, 'Don't tell anyone you saw me.'"

Mrs. Fish watched the men walk east from the rear of the house toward a wooded area, which is several hundred yards southeast. She told the News reporter she thought they might have had a car parked there.

Son Tells Neighbor

After the men were gone, Mrs. Fish sent her son, Robert, whom the family calls "Butchie," to the home of a neighbor, Mrs. Ed Hendricks. Mrs. Hendricks called another neighbor, Albert Ashman, on the phone and he in turn called the state patrol. It was then near 9 p. m., Mrs. Fish said.

Frightened to remain in the area Mrs. Fish then took her 11 children and came into the Mullins plant where her husband works the night turn, and waited until he finished work at 3 a. m. today.

not going to try to make or break any records," said Keener. "We have got business in every one of the 49 cities we'll visit."

Keener estimated the trip will take about two and one half months. The plane will leave July 15 from the Akron Canton airport.

But Does It Work?

Sometimes during the frenzy of disputes about ideologies, a listener gets fed up with theorizing and wants to know if the theories work. He is, of course, ruled out of order for asking an impertinent question.

This seems to be an era of theories. The affairs of men have been turned over to people with plans. Whether or not the plans are practical is a moot question—kept moot by the planners, who have no way of knowing.

The 20th century has had its Mussolinis, Lenins, Kerenskys, Hitlers, Stalins and, in this country, that curious array of diversified planners who called themselves new dealers and now call themselves something else.

And in Great Britain there came to the fore in 1945 a group known as the Labor party. This group's experience is of special interest, because it has been putting into effect a plan for evolutionary socialism. No one else has tried that.

Next year, the British Labor government must face a showdown in a national election. Its theories will be judged at the polls—or rather the workability of its theories. The Labor party is no longer enjoying the advantage of second-guessing some other party's policies. Its own policies are on trial now.

The test of any political party, once it wins responsibility, is what kind of government it provides; i. e., whether or not its theories work. Political parties exist for only one legitimate purpose—to make policies and administer government. Wherever they split into fragments and exist only to heckle the government, they have lost their legitimate function.

The British Labor party is holding its annual congress this week, the last one it will hold before the election in 1950. The British people are weighing in the balance. Observers believe that for the first time since 1945 the Laborites are on the defensive. Their theories were one thing. Their practices are another thing. Even in an era of theories, theorists must get down to the practical level if they are given a chance to try their theories.

Obedience To The Court

No one in this country is happy about the situation which has caused the United Mine Workers and John L. Lewis, its president, to be fined heavily for disobeying Federal court orders. The decision of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals upholding the contempt of court conviction of Mr. Lewis and his union last year may add another $1,420,000 to the fines previously paid for failure to carry out court orders. But no one who has given the matter a second thought can feel sorry for the miners and their boss.

Obedience to the courts in situations like this one has nothing to do with the issues between management and labor. It is concerned only with maintenance of an orderly society based on the sanctity of law and the dignity and prestige of the courts. Without these, the United States would have been either a police state or a lawless country in a perpetual state of anarchy.

The deplorable thing is that Mr. Lewis and his union have chosen on several occasions to express open contempt for the courts. That is always dangerous. Either the courts must then demonstrate their power, which they should never be forced to do, or yield to those who have challenged them. While it's doubtful that $1,420,000 in fines will change the attitude of John L. Lewis, it assures the rest of us he is not above the law, or beyond it, where he sometimes seems to think he is.

This We Gotta See

If it's true, as reported recently, that ECA is going to bring officials of Marshall plan countries to the United States to show them how to balance their budgets and administer good government, "This we gotta see."

The United States has a debt twice the size of all the debt of the European countries combined. It has a snafu in its political thinking which makes it feasible for office-seekers to win votes by abusing the sources of wealth which make it possible for the government to give away manufactured goods and commodities in multi-billion-dollar lots.

It has a weird mixup in its federal government that apparently makes it impossible for a commission of outstanding experts to get to first base with recommendations for improving efficiency. And it has a fiscal system so loose that the federal government has money to throw away on boondoggles while local governments are grubbing for the wherewithal to pay for ordinary housekeeping expenses.

Along with the cost of bringing European officials here to see how things are done—$500,000—another $800,000 is earmarked to speed ECA envoys overseas to spread the gospel of good government. If a voice from the balcony cries, "Physician, heal thyself!" don't be surprised.

Proper Symbolism

The treasurer of the United States has only a minor fraction of the importance indicated by the high-sounding title, but as "prestige jobs" go it's one of the desirable ones. For one thing, the treasurer signs all the paper money.

To succeed the late W. A. Julian, President Truman has named Mrs. Georgia Neese Clark of Kansas. This puts women in charge of two government functions that involve money. The director of the bureau of the mint, where the money is manufactured, that Mrs. Clark will sign is Nellie Taylor Ross.

The symbolism of women having these two jobs is not proper, because in the United States money is an object of nearly all the money. Money is performed to earn it, manipulate it, invest it and spend it if they feel like it. But they can do these things only with the approval and consent of stuff. That's just as true of a big shot asking his secretary whether he has enough money to buy a yacht as it is of a laborer asking his wife for an extra buck to spend on a few beers. Money in the United States is the responsibility of women.

THE STARS SAY:
By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE
For Wednesday, June 8

BENIGN conditions still obtain, with high adventure, change, new plans and activities, giving much pleasure and excitement.

There may be strange and quite unpredictable developments in all associations and objectives, and while serious and business matters should enjoy unlooked-for stimuli, with elders or old institutions ready to cooperate or approve, yet the accent is likely to be on artistic, cultural, social or sentimental functions or celebrations. Conserve energies and funds, using reasonable consideration in expenditures and resources.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is have the assurance of an era of progress and prosperity, in which their own originality, ingenuity, skills and enthusiasm should find ready support and approbation, possibly of a surprising and thrilling sort. Change, fresh contacts and interests, with elders consenting and giving substantial aid, should be carefully considered, with an eye to thrift and sound judgment rather than plunging or taking rash chances.

The romantic drive likewise should be submitted to wise consideration, lest excitement and extravagance backfire on health, standing, funds.

A child born on this day is splendidly equipped for an outstanding career, in some creative expression. It will find approval and promotion, but should guard against undue prodigality.

Blood Clots Cause Cauliflower Ears

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

ACCIDENTS to the ears occur rather frequently and here, as in other accidents, proper treatment may do much to ward off permanent damage and to prevent complications.

One of the most common effects of injury to the ear is bleeding into the external ear, with the formation of a blood clot in the tissues. When this occurs, there is a smooth, tender swelling which obliterates the normal outline of the ear. The skin over the swelling becomes darker in color and there may be some throbbing and discomfort. This condition does not cause any disability, but, if not treated, the ear becomes thick and unsightly. This is commonly known as a cauliflower ear.

Pressure on Tissues

It is suggested that, if the material under the skin is fluid, it may be withdrawn by using a syringe and needle. Unfortunately, the fluid reforms and, to bring about a cure, it must be sucked out daily for a week or more. Putting pressure on the tissues with a dressing after the fluid is withdrawn may keep the blood clot from re-forming.

The pressure may be applied in various ways. A plaster cast may be used for a large swelling. A more easily applied dressing is one made up of a pad of cotton which is firmly bandaged against the side of the head. This is replaced after three days, at which time the fluid which has accumulated within the tissues is withdrawn.

If these methods of treatment are not satisfactory, it may be necessary to cut the skin and drain the fluid.

Should Be Treated

Cuts and wounds of the ears also may occur. These should be treated, as are any other wounds, by getting rid of any damaged tissues and sewing up the cut.

Care must be taken not to put the stitches through the cartilage of the ears because infections may cause damage to the cartilage, and deformity. It is advisable to give some substance, such as penicillin or the sulfonamide drugs to keep these infections from developing.

It is also important to examine the external ear canal to make sure that no wound is present which is neglected, since, if untreated, scar tissue may form in healing which may block the ear canal. Should such scar tissue develop, which seems to be blocking the opening, the tissues may be stretched or a plastic operation carried out.

Answer: Sometimes, infections in the teeth, tonsils, or nasal sinuses, or a chronic infection of the appendix may be a contributing cause of itching skin. Red spots occur as a result of the irritation from the scratching. You should have a careful examination made so that if any infections are present they may be discovered and cleared up.

CHAIRMAN BLISS TO TALK CAMPAIGN

Ohioan Due In Washington
To Make Plans For '50
Congress Campaign

By MILTON KELLY
AP Special Washington Service
WASHINGTON, June 7—(AP)—Ray Bliss, Ohio Republican state chairman, is expected here soon for important political huddles with his state's congressional delegation and Republican leaders here.

Congressional sources say the meetings will deal largely with plans for new congressional campaign strategy in the state. Republicans lost eight seats to Democrats in the last election.

House Republicans are setting up a public relations bureau now to tell the people back home about their work. The Ohio delegation and Bliss are expected to discuss plans for dovetailing this program with the state G.O.P. organization's efforts.

Rep. McGregor (R-Ohio), minority whip for the east central states, said "issues in the next congressional election campaign will be 9 percent national. More individualized campaigning will be required. For instance, the man who represents a rural district and the one representing a city district need different campaign techniques. This is among the things we will discuss."

Some Republican congressional campaigners, in Ohio and elsewhere, long have contended their party's bigwigs expected them to expound "canned policy" from headquarters, at the expense of their own district's campaign issues.

Not all of the Ohio Republican lawmakers have waited for the new publicity bureau to get going. They are using blocked tax cut legislation as political ammunition already. This bill, with strong Ohio Republican backing, would remove wartime special taxes on rail and bus transport, long distance telephone calls, telegraph tolls, furs and some other items. Its backers see virtually no hope of getting it out of committee, or, if they do, of getting it passed at this session. Many Republicans supporting the measure reply to constituents queries with letters assuring them that, were the G. O. P. in control, congress probably would have passed it by now.

Offered Auto. Taken

For $3,000 by 'Con' Men

COVINGTON, Ky., June 7—(AP)—James Crouch, Middletown, O., businessman, reported to Covington police yesterday he lost $3,000 to two confidence operators named "Jim" and "Mike."

He said the men had telephoned him an offer of a 1949 automobile for $3,300.

Crouch and a business associate met the men at a downtown hotel. After some discussion, Crouch told police, the man known to him only as "Mike" said the Ohioan could have the car for $3,000 in cash if it were agreeable with "Jim."

Crouch said he handed "Mike" $3,000, the man excused himself to an adjoining room to discuss the matter with his companion—and that was the last he saw of them.

The hotel operator said the men had driven away in a car bearing Indiana license plates.

BRITISH WRITER GIVES VERSIONS OF U. S. WOMEN

LONDON, June 7—(UP)—Annie Edwards, the British fashion editor who thinks all American girls have bad skins and look and dress alike, reported today that the American career woman is an exquisitely dressed creature whose office is done up like a boudoir.

Miss Edwards, fashion editor for The Daily Express, recently returned from a brief trip to New York. Last week she analyzed the American look as "completely stereotyped" and the American girl as entirely lacking in individuality.

American girls, with their bad skins, desired nothing more than to have an English complexion, Miss Edwards declared.

Today, in a "pocket portrait" of the American career woman, Miss Edwards wrote: "She can accept your phone call charmingly. Then enthusiastically she makes a lunch date for the week after next."

"She receives you in her 'office,' standing so that the light from rose-shaded desk lamps throws a becoming upward glow."

"Her office looks like a boudoir done up in sprigged wallpaper and polished walnut, or pastel walls and white pine, according to the 'personality' ascribed to her in her firm."

"In any case, there are more armchairs than office chairs, more silk lampshades than telephones."

"At lunch she talks with shattering enthusiasm about her job, stringing one copywriter's cliché after another until you get the impression she never reads anything but her own advertisements—and believes every word. "Occasionally she stops to ask you how 'things are in Europe,' and at the end of the thoughtful silence that follows your reply she says, 'well, I may be sticking my neck out—but I guess shares are going over big this fall.'"

PRaises RENNEL — PORTSMOUTH LADY LOSES 57 POUNDS

"I can truthfully say Rennei is wonderful," writes Phrona Marlowe, 322 Broadway, Portsmouth, Ohio. "I am 48 years of age, and since using Rennei I have lost 57 pounds. My dress size has changed from 32 to 22 1/2. All my friends tell me how wonderful I look in my new clothes and how it has improved my figure. Many, many thanks to Rennei."

Hundreds of others have obtained similar relief from the social and physical discomfort of being overweight. Why not try this effective yet inexpensive method of reducing and enjoy the pleasure of feeling younger and more alive. Try Rennei and notice the admiring looks you will receive from your friends as your figure becomes younger and your vitality increases. Just go to your druggist and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Rennei. Pour the contents into a pint bottle—add enough unsweetened grapefruit juice to fill the bottle and then take two tablespoons twice a day. That's all there is to it. If you aren't satisfied with the results return the empty bottle to the manufacturer and your money will be refunded. You need never know a hungry moment while taking Rennei—no starvation diet—no printed diet list to buy—no vitamins to fortify you against weakness while going hungry, for you WON'T be hungry. Don't be switched to another product. Insist on the genuine Rennei.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK—The human race soon will be able to spend all its time playing gin rummy.

At present people still waste a lot of energy beating a living out of the world and fretting over other foolish problems.

Good old science is changing all that. Almost every day now it comes up with a new gadget to solve a worry that has plagued mankind since the Lord gave Adam a ribbing.

Take the problem of putting the baby to sleep at night. Now that should be a simple thing. But it has bothered every family since caveman days, and that is going back 40,000 years. And it always ended up with Papa or Mama having to tramp back and forth with the yawling infant crooning it a lullaby.

WELL, AFTER these 400 centuries, a fellow came along and invented an automatic rocker. It not only rocks Junior. It sings to him, too—in his mother's voice. And that leaves his fond parents free to stay in the living room and earn a living at gin rummy off the visiting neighbors.

But the mechanical baby rocker, the automatic dish washer, the refrigerator and deep freeze unit, the vacuum cleaner, the television set that brings vaudeville into your parlor—these are as nothing to science's new wonder, the "electric brain."

Here is a real thingamajig. And if you expect to keep up with the Joneses in the future, you're going to have to have one handy around the house. And you might as well start saving up for the down payment now, as a pilot model presently in production will cost about $200,000.

This "electric brain" is named "Zephyr," and he's going to be some boy. He's being built by Dr. Harry Huskey for the U. S. Bureau of Standards at the University of California at Los Angeles.

Zephyr will take up where Einstein left off. He will be able to translate three foreign languages, or perform 16,000 additions and 4,000 multiplications a second. With this faithful big-brain standing in the corner, no school child need ever again dread homework.

IT IS ALSO promised that this electrical wizard will be able to compute salary payments—not that this bit of arithmetic has ever been any strain on the average man's intellect. But Zephyr in addition can predict the weather, even in California, and replace minor executives.

This last function is indeed a happy one as it promises to rid the world of a highly troublesome class—the straw bosses. These strange people—you find them in every office staring at a "Think" motto on their desks—like to boast they work like machines. It will be restful to see them replaced by machines that work like people. And, of course, it was inevitable that in the march of progress somebody would invent a machine that could collect flyspecks as well as do minor executives, who make a career out of this art that should be no more than a hobby.

But Zephyr's real place will be in the home. With his mathematical ability he'll be able to balance your wife's bank book without stripping a gear. And he'll easily figure a way to cut your income tax in half, the true test of genius in our times.

Zephyr is only slightly larger than a kitchen cabinet, and presumably he'll come in either a walnut or mahogany veneer. At a paltry $200,000 what home can afford to be without him?

Coopers Burned In Home

CINCINNATI, June 7—Mrs. Dorothy Cooper, 49, daughter-in-law of former Gov. Myers Y. Cooper, and her son, Myers Y. Cooper II, 22, were burned seriously Sunday when a bottle of cleaning fluid exploded at their home. Both were taken to Holmes hospital. Mrs. Cooper is the wife of Raymond K. Cooper, president of the Myers Y. Cooper Realty Co.

Careless use of matches and smoking materials is the greatest cause of fire in the United States, accounting for 29.26 per cent of all fires of known causes.

"Sleeping Beauty" Turns Out To Be Home Robber

CLEVELAND, June 7—(AP)—An intruder from Detroit, who ransacked her dresser of jewelry and then climbed into her bed and went to sleep, caused trouble yesterday for an 82-year-old great-grandmother.

The woman, Mrs. Atilda Besman, told police she awakened about 5:15 a. m. and heard someone snoring next to her. After quickly scrambling to her feet, she reached over and felt a man in the bed.

Then she summoned William Petcoff, 54, a roomer. He brought along a wooden club, but the two of them were unable to rouse the man. Steve Kosturbanics, a neighbor called in to help, suggested they call the police.

Officers finally shook the sleeper into consciousness and booked him for investigation while they check other burglaries here.

He was identified as Ernest Lilly of Detroit. Police were unable to explain why he took the occasion to go to sleep.

Several diamonds and a watch which had been taken from Mrs. Besman's dresser were found in his pockets, police said.

Interesting Switches Made In "A" Standings

Deming Beats Diner, Parker Crew Moves To 2nd Place; VFW Maintains National 1st

All is not dull in Class A softball today. Some interesting switches have come about through Monday's activities at the city's two diamonds.

Most vital changes in the American league involved the Salem Diner, Deming and Parkers. The Diner, recent conquerors of the Amvets, fell 2-1 before the league-leading Deming crew last night in a bid to get up on top of the heap.

And Parkers, breezing easily 12-0 over the hapless Saxon club, made a move up into second place, a full game behind the Pumpers.

In the National loop things happened, too. The CIO took an unexpected dip in standing when it lost out to a determined Bliss crew 8-1. The Blissmen, by virtue of the victory, move up to a 500 rating, nestled cozily in fifth place just behind the CIO, tied now with Mullins.

By doing nothing Monday the Salem China automatically moved into second place. The unbeaten VFW remained that way by taking Fishers 8-0 for its fourth straight.

Apparently willing to by-pass this one, the Jaycees failed to field a team Monday and forfeited to Swetyes, who move up a peg or two on the gift victory.

The Deming team called out its pitching ace, Kenny Brudery, who hurled a magnificent game against the Diner's Frank Lanney. Brudery, in rare form, limited the usually hard-hitting Diner men to a well-scattered seven hits.

While he was spacing the seven Diner blows, Lanney was having a bit more trouble keeping only four Deming hits far enough apart and the Pumpers slipped across two runs—just enough to win. The game was a vital one for both crews.

The balance of the games were one-sided and hardly worth detail, but the victories were important in league standings.

Fishermen May Earn Story Right

WASHINGTON (AP)—May-be fishermen have a right to tell fish stories. After all, they spend more for equipment than any other sportsmen.

The census bureau said yesterday in a report on its 1947 census of manufacturers that the factory value of fishing tackle sold to fishermen amounted to nearly $58,700,000.

That, the bureau said, is more than one-fourth of the $210,000,000 worth of sporting and athletic goods of all kinds turned out.

By comparison, the 28,884,000 golf balls produced had a factory value of $14,300,000. Iron golf clubs totaled 2,700,000 costing $10,000,000, wooden golf clubs 1,140,000 costing $6,000,000.

These are some of the other totals: Tennis balls, 8,052,000; baseballs, 7,848,000; softballs, 4,880,000; basketballs, 1,080,000; footballs, 3,698,000; baseball bats, 3,332,000; baseball gloves, 2,184,000; billiard and pool tables and accessories costing $5,300,000; roller skate production $10,000,000.

Flag Pole Sitter In Rough Spot

CLEVELAND, June 7 (AP)—To Flag Pole Sitter Charley Lupica, the skidding Cleveland Indians are beginning to look like a tough personal problem.

Lupica has been on his 6 by 6-ft. perch atop a 40-foot tower for eight days yesterday. In two months, he says, his wife expects her fourth child.

In a barroom, Lupica had bet he would stay up there until the Indians reach first place. They're in the seventh now, 10 games out of first.

"If we're not in first place when the baby comes," groaned Lupica, "I guess they'll just have to bring it up to me."

Of his children, only six-year-old Margaret seems puzzled by the going-on.

"What's daddy doing up there?" she asks.

Class B Sekelys Beaten By Panthers

Sekely's softball team, previously unbeaten in Class B play, bowed 9-6 Monday at Centennial park before the onslaught by the Panthers, a comer in league circles.

In the other fray Monday Schusters won out 5-4 over the Lions in a hotly contested tilt.

WITH LOU ON 3RD THINGS LOOKING MUCH IMPROVED

Boudreau Takes Sack He Hasn't Played In 10 Yrs., Boone Makes 2 Errors

CLEVELAND, June 7 (AP)—With Manager Lou Boudreau shifted to third base, the Cleveland Indians today appeared to have successfully completed the first phase of their desperate reorganization program.

Ray (like) Boone, given the shortest position in the switch, made two damaging errors as the Tribe blasted the Philadelphia Athletics 11-5 last night, but Tribe officials credited them both to unusual pressure of the occasion, at the plate he smashed three singles and drove in a run.

Boudreau looked as if he was right at home. He handled two putouts and three assists in brilliant fashion.

The shift of Boudreau to a position he has not played since minor league days 10 years ago followed a special pow wow among Tribe President Bill Veck, the youthful manager and his coaching staff.

Veck, who earlier threatened drastic action to end the Tribe's slump, declined to discuss trade plans. He admitted making "a dozen phone calls in the last 26 hours," but would not comment on possible additions or replacements.

A nine-run uprising in the eighth enabled the Tribe to wash out a 5-4 Athletics lead and coast to victory in the finale of the four-game series.

Joe Gordon, with a homer and single, teamed with Boone to lead the Tribe's 10-hit attack. Mike Garcia, who relieved Starter Steve Gromek and gave up no hits in four innings, was credited with the win. The A's made only three hits.

Boone's throwing error and boot of a ground ball in the fourth inning along with all three Philadelphia safeties, gave the A's all of their runs.

DEPARTMENT OF INFORMATION

Scott Chisholm, gradually developing a diversified recreational center at his Salem A. C. field, has opened the latest innovation—and it's one Salem has needed for some time.

If you're one of those golfers who needs practice (and who isn't) or just love to get out and hit 'em, Scott now is featuring a fine driving range adjacent to the baseball field.

With nine mats for practicing golf bugs, the range offers day and evening service to those who want to improve shots of all kinds.

The range is equipped with floodlights for evening use and you can hang them out without having to worry about retrieving the little pills.

For several years Salem people have been travelling as far as Alliance and Youngstown to make use of this type of pastime. Scott's newest angle will save a lot of travelling and may well result in some improved links games throughout the area.

DEPARTMENT OF WELCOME

Apparently summer is really here. The college students have been pouring back into town for the summer during the past week. That's the final sign that the season of relaxation and enjoyment is around.

Home from sports activities—as well as the customary academic chores—are Bob Payer, a student at Oklahoma A and M, Louis Juliano and Andy Parionieri, students at Duquesne university and Frank Carlross, a Duke university student and a flock of others.

All of those above have been making their marks in athletic endeavors at college. Payer, of course, is one of the leading Freshman candidates for the basketball squad. He reports that he likes A and M very much. He was at Ohio State for a while this year, but transferred out west.

Group Tennis School At Centennial Park

Group tennis instructions for an intermediate group will begin at 5 p. m. Wednesday at Centennial, Gordon Scott, instructor, announced today.

Scott, who has offered free tennis instruction to anyone interested in order to promote tennis activity in Salem, will offer group instructions for a beginners group next week

Representative Speels Over 'Bums' At $71 Page

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS

WASHINGTON, June 7—(UP)—It costs you and me—us tax payers—something like $71 a page to put out the Congressional Record.

Some of the prose in it is deathless. It lives for the archives. Some of it wouldn't sell at the dime counter.

The $200 worth I am about to mention is interesting reading and you can file it in whatever category you wish. It is titled "Care and Protection of Dogger Fans," and occupies almost five columns of the Congressional Record appendix, which is reserved for "extension of remarks."

The dissertation was written by the Hon. Louis B. Heller—a Democrat of where do you suppose? Brooklyn.

He started out very sensibly by stating that "for years the word 'bum' has been a term of endearment in Brooklyn for the 'doggers.' Noah Webster, who wrote a dictionary, defines the word as 'of very poor quality—good for nothing.' Heller didn't quote Mr. Webster.

The congressman observed that "Brooklyn fans glory in their eccentricity." That can go without challenge under the sub-heading of understatement.

In one paragraph, which cost us tax-paying folks a buck or so, Heller said:

"The frenetic enthusiasm of the Brooklyn supporters is not and Maynard (Robert resides in Warren and Maynard is a medical student at Asbury college, Wilmore) and a vocal duet by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Townsend of Salem.

Rev. Lydia Brantingham, who announced the contestants, also gave a reading.

Judges were Mrs. Alfred McLaughlin of Salem, teacher in the Winona school, and Miss Pearl Walker of the reportorial staff of The Salem News.

confined to the male of the species. An American soldier who had just survived a Brazil charge on Leyte described the attack in language any Dodger fan could understand. 'They make' he said, 'the weirdest sound as they rush at you screaming. It sounds like ladies' day at Ebbets field!'

A lot of silly things have happened at Ebbets field and Heller at $71 a page in the record, missed very few. He told of the time against Boston in 1926 when three confused players found themselves on third base—all at the same time. That accounted for three outs, when one would have been enough—and a wonderful little piece for the papers.

Heller claims, and there is no dissenting voice, that Brooklyn fans never forget that one. He told about a hinterlander getting into a Brooklyn cab. He mentioned, to keep conversation going, that "the Bums are leading. Three men on base."

The cabbie asked:

"Which base?"

The Brooklyn fan can make or break a ball player. "Koiby" Higbee was a hero when he won and a bum when he walked in a run. Dixie Walker could have been mayor of the Borough of Brooklyn. Leo Durocher certainly could have too.

The devotion of the fan at Ebbets field is undying. Early in 1943 Dolf Camilli threatened to sit out the season on his farm. He complained he could find no one to ride herd on his cattle and informed Branch Rickey he would have to turn cowhand—or lose a fine bunch of cows.

An Italian barber, who used to trim Dolf's locks, came to the rescue. He wrote that he would milk the cows and trim Dolf's hair in his spare time if the first baseman would stick around.

That's the way it is in Brooklyn. According to Congressman Heller.

The British crown jewels, after long war retirement in bomb-proof storage, again are on display in the Tower of London, guarded by the latest burglar-proof devices.

Hold Woman After Shooting Episode

WARREN, June 7—(INS)—A Youngstown woman who was wounded slightly by police chasing an automobile in which she was riding was held in Trumbull county jail in Warren today.

Mrs. Dorothy Gerthung, 22, received a slight chest wound and was treated and released from Trumbull Memorial hospital in Warren yesterday. A married couple and another man were picked up with her.

Police at nearby Newton Falls said the quartet admitted two house burglaries in Mahoning county and one in Portage county. The women are held in Warren and the men in Newton Falls.

Cruiser Patrolmen saw the car in the village and told the occupants to stop. When they refused, a cruiserman fired one shot in the air. When the car kept going, he fired at the automobile and the bullet grazed Mrs. Gerthung's chest.

ROBINETTE GIVEN LANCASTER POSITION

Ralph Robinette, of Greenford, 37-year-old Ohio university graduate, was appointed director of athletics at Lancaster High school last night.

The Youngstown Rayen basketball coach succeeds Barney Francis in the Lancaster job. Sixty men applied for the post. Francis will be director of athletics at the University of Toledo.

Appointment by the Lancaster board of education was on a two-year basis with an annual salary of $4,200.

Robinette is a native of McArthur. After graduation from Ohio university in 1934, Robinette coached at Boardman, Austintown Fitch, Greenford and Youngstown. He is married and has two daughters and lives in Greenford.

Wednesday Deadline For Alumni Tickets

Wednesday is the deadline for reservations for the annual Salem High school Alumni association banquet, to be held Friday evening in the Masonic temple.

Tickets for the event are on sale at both Farmers and First National banks, Leese's drug stores and McBane-McArtor's. Tickets for the dance may be purchased anytime this week. The banquet tickets are $2.50 and the dance tickets are $1.50. Both include the annual dues.

William K. Gibson, Youngstown newspaperman, will be the featured speaker at the banquet.

ST. PAUL'S PUPILS FETED AT PICNIC

The annual St. Paul's Catholic school picnic was held yesterday at Firestone park.

Children in the lowest grades attended this year for the first time. More than 200 youngsters boarded the buses yesterday morning for the trip.

They ate both noon and evening meals at the park, returning to Salem in the evening.

The complete program was under the personal direction of Rev. Fr. J. R. Gaffney, assisted by Rev. William Appell.

Games, contests and singing for all age groups filled the morning and afternoon with swimming also being enjoyed in the afternoon.

The children were accompanied by school teachers and leaders of the Scout and Brownie units of the church.
